The experiences of the legislature of 1901 have made me wonder why the people stand an establishment so expensive as the militia, within the government. If my recollection serves me right, the committee having this matter in charge at the time showed where the military was costing this government the sum total of what other States were get ting militis of from 18,000 to 18,000 men for. That fact, together with the methods pursued by the officers in the bungalow, while the legislature was in ses sion, makes me believe that the military arm could be lopped off and we would never know that it was some The methods adopted by these in members of the legislature to "right conclusions" were so offensive as to removal of the military establishment from the bungslow, which was effered

As reported in the telegraphic colutions of our last issue, the crew and passengers of the Japanese steamer Nakonoura-maru, which was sunk by four Russian warships near the Isugaru straits on the 11th inst., returned to Nagasaki by a German steamer yester-

The Nakonoura-maru, therefore, prepared to lower boats and signalled to the Russian menmuch as possible. The Russian squad-ron then replied: "We are going to save you." The four ships surrounded the Nakonoura-maru and began the firing discharging several shots each. #### Evangelical Association Work. The Friend for March outlines the present policy of the Board of the Hawallan Evangelical Association. After many months devoted to a most careful consideration of all features of its work, the Board has entered upon a two-fold policy of coordination and affilintion, the one territorial in its scope, the other national.

The original work of the American Board in these Islands regarded the Hawalians alone. Its missionaries founded churches and consolidated Dinkings was heard above the noise; them into four island associations: (1) Hawaii, (2) Maul, comprising also Molokal and Lansi; (8) Oahu, and (4) Kausi including Nihau. These four combined in the Evangelical Association. The system was complete and has worked admirably.

As the white population grew, it became necessary to provide means of worship for those unacquainted with the native tongue, and thus there slowly came into being the so-called For-eign churches. Composed of English-Christian work carried on by the American Mission, the members of these churches were zenious supporters of native inhabitants. But owing to the and to their location at points widely separated on the other, these churches of English-speaking people connected remain behind. He feebly answered other. > With the entrance of Hawaii into the Union-and with the diminished support incident to the decease of several generous contributors, the Hawaiian Board became hampered in its work. The Board has now called upon its constiuency everywhere throughout these Islands to close ranks and march together. It is very gratifying to be able to state that the response has been unanimous and enthusiastic beyond expertation.

The Board has already cut its expenses down more than $15,000 per annum, but today stands about $9.869 in debt, and the deficiency has increased the past ten months by a little over $2,100 a month.

The Board last fall entered into communication with the Home Missionary Society and the American Musicinary Association, with a view both to its affiliation with these presutsations and to their co-operation in its various enternelses.

Roand demands as its initial step, that all the churches connect the medices respectively with the Island Associations and begin to pull together, regardless

AILITIA AND THE LAW.

Friends of our extravagant militia system contend that the laws do not permit the interference of United States troops for the preservation of domestic order, that function being left to the police and militia. This version of the statutes, though widely prevalent among laymen, is not precisely respondents who were left behind in true. United States troops do not interfere in States unless disorder gets beyond control of the civit authorities when, upon requisition of the Governor, and sometimes without it; the President may call them into action. United States troops interfered by request in the Idaho strike and in the railroad riots of 1877; but during the Chicago strikes the President intervened for the protection of the mails pressly declared against the use of United States troops.

But all this has to do with the practice of States. Territories are not sovereign within their sphere; they are, especially since the insular decisions were made, apparages of the Federal power, creatures of the Congressional will, and in the case of insular territories, they are strongholds and strategic points which the United States must look after. In dealing with the Internal disturbances of Territories the Federal Government has never stopped to enquire into the wishes of Governors or Legislatures or to summon the militia first. Indians on the warpath in Arizona meant the instant use of the Federal troops. Likewise hands of cattle thieves have been pursued and captured by Uncle Sam's cavalry. A few years ago, during the Santa Fe strike, rathroad tunnels in New Mexico were guarded by Federal infantry. And here in Hawail during the Chinatown fire the command at Camp McKittley came down town ready for business. Under such circumstances those troops would do as much again. We may rest assured that if any one started in to burn the city thus endangering Federal property, the United States forces would be heard from in short order. Are we seriously told that if Hawaii had neither militia, police nor many armed citizens to call upon, a command of United States troops on the ground would let the inhabitants be mobbed to death simply because there was no red tape to be unwound? Or that they would remain quiescent if a militia re-

True, the United States would like to have us keep up a numerous militia just as it liked to have us keep on maintaining the lighthouses and spending big sums on the harbors. Defence of the coasts is a purely Federal matter and should be paid for to the last nickel by the United States treasury. Of course if Uncle Sam would not feel safe without the aid of Stenographer Jones and his buckramwarriors, the way might be opened to ular one may eafely believe that some put them on the Federal payroll. #### THE WAR CORRESPONDENTS

A local contemporary which made violent objection to the statement of the Advertiser that the war correspondeng were sending nonsense and were evidently not at the scene of hostilities, now prints an interview with a returning passenger on the Siberia who says that the correspondents are "securely bottled up." We quote:

Perhaps it is not generally known that all the war correspondents who have gone to Japan for the purpose of reporting the war are "bottled up" as it were, in Tokio and that each one is closely watched. The Government does not intend to take any chances of having their plans divulged Naturally they are chafing to get away but they cannot. Korea is the destination they are naturally aiming for but the Japanese Government has put its foot down on any proposition of the kind. They may go to Nagasaki and Yokonama and other places in Japan, but they As showing the kind of intelligent aid are never out of sight of the secret In any scheme of economy to be expected agents of the Government. At the instance of the Londor Times, whose friendship Japan wanted, this rule was relaxed enough to let inafter Creelman, Villiers and one other had been excluded—two English, two American and two French correspondents and a French artist; and though other correspondents flocked to Yokohams, including the distinguished Col. John A. Cockerell, none of them was permitted to take the field. The American policy of the Philippines for the Filipino is bringing its natural result in insurrection. Now that Hilo has been definitely picked for the next convention city she will have to arrange ways and means for providing necessary botel accommodations for the delegates. Even Walluku was able to offer botel facilities to the central committee.

When there is no war news in particis brewing.

There is going to be something doing in the Adachi cam.

With all due respect to Bevernor Carter, this community is an suggestion that he may call the legislature in extra section as a remody ter the financial situation.

It is said that the Govdenor has interviewed Kumaise and Geo. Markham and Jimmie Boyd and other responsible Home Rulers, indicted and unindicted, and they have promised to be good. Just put them in charge of the appropriation bill and the printing and translation committees, and they will demonstrate what real simon-pure dyed-in-the-wool economy is. We know they will, for they have done it before.

The earnest conviction of this community is that the Home Bulk leaders cannot be trusted any further than you can throw a buil by the tall, when boodle, or even pickings, are in sight.

A drunkard may be cured by the gold cure.

A chicken stealing dog may be cured by tieling one of his victims about his neck until it rots off; but an impecuatous Home Ruler in uncontrolled charge of a blanket appropriation for expenses of the legislature, can no more help its sticking to his fingers and those of his friends, than a hungry calf with a teat in his mouth can help sucking milk.

It is a moral certainty that the legislature will sit the limit of their timeallowance; will spend what they can the expenses of the last three sessions have averaged over $40,000 each—and when they get through what will the Territory have to show for it?-

Suppose they should pass an ideal appropriation bill—the bill that Governor Carter asked them to what good would that do? The present difficulty is not that the appropriation bill is too large or that if is ill considered it is both but that there is not revenue enough to pay the present rate of expenditure

The Governor can curtail expenditure just as well as the legislature, Iften items have been appropriated for, and there is only money enough for ave, the legislature is not required to atop payment of the ave to be discontinued. All the Governor has to do is to say. I will spend these ave approprintions, and I will not expend the other five, because there is not money errough to go around."

It has been suggested that this will be assuming legislative functions on the part of the Governor.

Not so. The legislature passed an appropriation bill providing for the expenditure of twice the amount of the estimated revenue, with full know k edge of the fact, and knowing that it would place in the hands of the Governor the very power of selection of appropriations to be spent, that he is now entied upon to exercise.

If was pointed out by the press, and by members of both houses. So far from usurping legislative powers, the Governor will be doing just what the legislature contemplated he would have to do, when it passed the Two white men have been arrested

Having the power, with the full approval of the legislature that passed the bill, the community devocity hopes that Governor Carter himself will ply fabetting the escape to Japan of A the pruning kulfe instead of handing the job over to Kumalae and his fellow statesmen. It knows that these gentlemen are economical by instinct; that lawyer's bills are high and grand juries oppressive; but still they have had one try at making an appropriation bill, and it would be preferable to lesthe Governor take a trick at the wheel. The results will be more satisfactory and accomplished a great deal more cheaply. The Covernor will not charge up any relates on printing bills nor pay double time nor conceal any youthers. In plain words, Governor Carter, the community has confidence in you, but it has no confidence in the legislature, and instead of the suggestion of calling an extra session relieving the situation, it has produced a greater state of uncertainty in the community mind than the morning, weather prediction: Whatever else happens, spare us an other legislative infliction:

NO SPECIAL SESSION.

The question is not whether the mempayers who foot the hills want them was when the new Governor refused to call one, and on the same grounds.

. . . . . . . . . There's statesmanship for your The need is to run one government with greater economy, hence the proposal to have two governments, costing in the aggregate a great deal more, overboard and the other threw up, Were the Legislature to convene, that sort of argument would be heard in both houses and there would be no end of a wrangle over "party pledges" ending in either more costs, a finke or Jury, but not helping out the tarpayers Ally.

GREAT BRITAIN'S STATUS

His Britannio Majesty's Consul W. R. Houre has received from the Foreign Office copies of King Edward's Proclamation enjoining his aubjects to observe strict neutrality during the present state of war between Russia and Japan. The Proclamation can be seen by those concerned at the Consulate and Vice-Consulate, and is of particufar interest in view of the cabled reports of Great Britain's relations with Russia and Japan.

The document is dated February II and sets forth that a state of war is unhappily existing between 'His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, and his Majesty the Emperor of Japan; and, whereas, We are on terms of friendship and amicable intercourse with each of these powers; and, whereas, great numbers of Our loyal subjects reside and carry on commerce and possess property and establishments within the dominions of each of the aforesaid Powers; and, whereas, We being desirous of preserving to Our subjects the blessings of peace, which they now heartfly enjoy, are firmly purposed and determined to maintain a strict and impartial neutrality in the said state of war existing,

We do hereby strictly charge and command all our leving subjects to govern themselves accordingly, and to observe a strict neutrality in and during the aforesaid war, and to abstain from violating or contravening either the laws and statutes of the realm in this behalf, or the law of nations in relation thereto, as they will answer to the contrary at their peril."

In the "Act to Regulate the Conduct of Her Majesty's Subjects during the existence of Hostilities between Foreign States with which Her Majesty is at Peace," passed during the reign of Victoria there is a provision to the effect that if any person, without the license of the Crown, being a British. subject accepts or agrees to accept any Commission or Engagement in the Military or Naval Bervice of Any Ford eign State at peace with England he shall be guilty of an offense against the Act and shall be punishable by fine or imprisenment or both. The letter of Lord Langdowne to the House of Lords sets forth: "All ships House of Lords sets forth; All ships COL. FITCH LOCATES of war of either belligerent are pro-COL. FITCH LOCATES albited from making use of any port the Isle of Man, or the Channel Islands. or in any of Edward's colonies or fordign dossessions or dependencies."

THE RUSE OF ENGLAND

The return of Russia's Mediterranean warships which started so impetuously for the Far East and were last reported leaving the canal the way they had entered it, recalls the Camara inoldent of our own Spanish war. After Dawey's victory at Manila bay, the Spanish Admiral Camara was ordered there with the best squadron Spain had available, including the battleship Pelayo. As soon as Camara had entered the Suez canal paying the heavy tolls, the United States gave out that Admiral Watson's squadron of battleships would be sent to Spain to bombard its ports and seize Ceuts on the north African shore, opposite Gibraitar. That the United States had any intention of carrying the war into the Mediterranean and running the risk of diplomatic complications, has since been denied; but the ruse was successful, for Camara, as soon as he reached the Red Sea, was compelled to turn around and so home where he remained until the close of the war.

IMPORTANT POINTS ON JAPAN'S WAR MAP

Editor Advertiser: The two Japanes ports, Mororan and Otaru, being the shipping depots respectively of the Yubari and Sarachi coal fields, the one being in the southeast of Yezo and the other in Ishikari Bay, about sixty miles due north of Mororan, are just now points of no little importance and interest. These coal fields and ports are of course all connected by rail, the harbors being capable of receiving vessels of deep draft. The output of coal from these places was, for the past year, over a million tons. From them is obtained the largest part of the fuel burned on the warships of the Mikado The mines are owned and worked by a wealthy Japanese company paying its shareholders from twenty to thirty per cent annual dividends. REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PINE-APPLE CANNERY, FEB. 27TH. .1904. ..

To the Hilo Agricultural Society:

Your committee appointed for the purpose prepared and to a certain extent circulated, the following paper, to wit. "We the undersigned, pineapple planters and others, desiring to make the pineaple industry a success in Hilo. and feeling that united action is necessary to accomplish it, do hereby signity our willingness to unite and form a company, to establish and operate a Though not many signatures were obtained it was clearly demonstrated that capital for the purpose is ready when a sufficient supply of pines is at hand. But we found it to be the opinion of wise business men that establishing a plant to can the few pines now grown, would be very unwise The only Hawalian cannery that has paid a profit fies 800,000 plants, and pe profit has been realized until this year. The Tropic Fruit Co. has 440 acres available for pines, and 37 acres planted, but they have not yet erected a cannery. We do not know the area of the Hawalian Pineapple Co. whose cannery was erected the past season, but it is probably larger than that of the Tropic Fruit Co. Their leasehold is 580 acres. It is estimated by a man of experience now in the business on Oahu, that a cannery can be run on the product of 100 to 200 acres. We doubt if the product of 15 acres would be available in Hilo this segmon. We therefore recommend delay in the establishment of a commercy until at least 100 neres in pines shall be available. We have abundant evidence that pineapple raising and canning will both be very profitable as soon as enough are raised to supply a cannery of reasonably large these islands for the raising of this fruit are superlative, no sheds are required, whereas in Florida, where over 7,500,000 pines are raised annually. (see report of Com. of Agriculture for 1901-2), hundreds of scres have been covered with protecting sheds at an expense of from $525.00 to $600.00 per acre. From $20.00 to $150.00 per acre is required for fertilizer (see Farmers' Bulletin, No. 140). Cultivation is expensive on account of the price of labor ($2 and $2.50 per day of six hours) and the myriads of mosquitoes that infest that pineapple region. And yet, Jarel Smith remarked to this society that these pines, which are canned extensively in the vicinity of Baltimore, pared with ours." The flavor as compines is unexcelled in the world. The canned pines from Oahu are admitted to be the finest in flavor of any on the market. Mr. Bentley, representing the largest canning combine in the world. admitted this fact in the presence of this society. What then, is there to prevent Hawaii from becoming paramount in this industry? It is promised that the Tropical Fruit Packing Co. of letters from Mr. McKenzie dated at Walakes, which already has a build-ing erected adjoining the R. R. shops, will use, for jam, etc., the surplus pines of this year and next, therefore not in January, the former proceeding to even present loss will be occasioned Japan on January & The Mail scent- growers while preparing support for a CABBETY.

As this industry is destined to become great at Hilo, growers should be awake to the danger of placing themselves at the mercy of an outside corporation. They should contrel the cannery when established and should now make every effort to extend the pineapple area near Hilo. Respectfully submitted.

The House Committee on Territories has received a number of letters from the Territory about the county law. One of these was a protest about the provision therein concerning sureties on official and business bonds. The law, as it stood before declared unconquired each bondsman to qualify for the entire amount of the bond, although there were several bondsmen on the same paper. Captain Niblack, U. S. N., Assistant Lighthouse Inspector, and Lieut. Slattery, U. S. A., returned Sunday from an official inspection of the lights and buoys on Kaust. Owing to bad weather a land trip which the officers intended making from Walmes to Nawillwill was omitted. The officers found that the lights on the Garden Isle are too weak, thereby giving insufficient range and they will be strengthened.

Captain Niblack had a splendid opportunity to judge of the efficiency of the lights, as they were at see during thick weather, and in this way ascertained that the range was imper-

TERRIBLE TALES TOLD BY SAILORS

Judge Dele had before him all day yesterday the libel of members of the crew of the British bark Ivanhoe against that vessel, in which wages and damages for ill treatment are cisimed. A. S. Humphreys and J. J. Dunne appeared for the libellants; Holmes & Stanley for the libelies. The libellants announced at adjournment that it would take only a few minutes to close their case this morning. Very strong evidence was given by the libeliants and on their behalf in support of the terrible charges contained in the libel. One bright-looking young Englishman, who was withal a fluent talker, told of dreadful strikings and woundings he had himself received at the hands of the first mate. Smashing him about the eyes with the fists was nothing compared to laying his scalp open with a belaying pin.

The alleged committing of suicide by one sailor at Iquique rather than continuing on the voyage was retold from the complaint with accessories at the mouths of the witnesses which, not to be figurative at all, was simply bloodcurdling. How the man was struck when lying down with his life current escaping from a self-inflicted wound in man, Analiola, Kilanes, Kalihiwai and the wrist, and again pinched while thus prostrate from loss of blood, was circumptantially related.

Whether or not the avidence by and for the complainants can be disproved. or materially shaken only the case for the defense will develop.

The huancial crisis now facing the government has been the subject of more or less attention during the past week. The bankers have had several conferences with the Governor, but there has been no other result than that the banks have been compelled to decline the responsibility of carrying the registered warrants from now until November, when the taxes come in. Whether there will be a change in the attitude of the financial men, once the Supreme Court passes upon the question of appropriations, is doubtful. The banks are now carrying somewhat heavy loads as it is, and with decreased deposits, the idea of holding the warrants for nine months does not appeal very strongly to them.

Almost as a whole the bankers and business men of the community are opposed to the idea of an extra session, as a relief for present difficulties. Taking the legislature at its best, and granting that it will pass appropriation bills, reducing the expenditure in the shortest possible time, there is still objection to the plan. The principal difficulty is a present one when November rolls around again with taxes coming in, and with proper economy in the meantime, the treasury should be in a fairly good condition. Even though the legislature met now, there would be no immediate betterment of the situation as the taxes could not be increased off-hand, or collected without proper legal notice. Senator Crabbe has been interviewing bankers and business men on the special session during the week, and the responses he received were far from favorable to that plan Some of the views expressed were quite emphatic as well as sound common sense. One banker said that a siege of hard times might be of final great benefit to the country. The plantations and merchants are reducing expenses in every possible way, and practicing an economy which was not necessary when sugar prices were higher. The government has been the last to come down to hard pan, and one idea of economy expressed is that the calling of the legislature is not in the line of curtailment of expenses. It is pointed out that if the government officials are not willing to accept a reduction in salaries, the same end can be obtained by reducing the number of officials. The bookkeeping maintained by every department with a multitude of clerks is properly the work of the audit office. In all the offices there are a multitude of clerks whose duties could be performed by half the mumber. By cutting out the innecessary appendages throughout the entire list of appropriations, as Governor Carter and Secretary Atkinson have started to do, would perhaps bring the Territory over until the next session with the help of the November tax receipts in fairly good shape.

TAXATION QUESTION.

An increase in the rate of taxation, would in the opinion of one banker, help the situation but little. Property is over-valued now, it is claimed, and property owners are simply paying on the increased valuation to help the government out of the hole, realizing as they do, that the money must come out of the taxpayers in one form or the other. If the rate was increased, it would mean simply that the taxpayers would insist upon the values coming down to an actual cash selling basis. As illustrative of this, it is contended that property rarely sells at the assessed valuation. There were two sales of property resterday which proved the truth of the assertion. A tract of Fort street land near Kukui street belonging to Knaka, upon which L. F. Alvarez held a mortgage was sold at auction under foreclosure yesterday. The property was bought in by R. W. Shingle, trustee, for $2100. The assessed valuation was $5300. Another piece of land at Palama, a residence lot, included in the same mortgage was purchased for $675.

It had been assessed at $675.

If his decided to call a special session there is one suggestion made vester. flay, which may be of value. This is the passage of a law giving the treasurer the right to deposit government funds in the banks. In this way, the million dollar lean money could be divided up among the four banks, and they would then be in a better position to take over the registered warrants and fiold them until November. As it now is, the million dollars is locked up in the treasury vaules at an expense of nearly $3000 per month.

BOTTLED WAR CORRESPONDENTS

Those talented gentlemen, the war correspondents, who rashed off to the Far-East to report the progress of the Russo-Japanese conflict for the enterprising daily papers of America do not appear to be gathering much news. Considerable history has been made in the past few weeks but the distinguished war correspondents, the Richard Harding Davises, the Jack Londons and the other skilled writers of fiction are not telling us much about it. A big mayal battle has been fought, and there have been thrilling skirmishes by land and sea, but all we know about them we have gathered in a vague sort of way by reading numerous contradictory and unauthoritative reports that have come from various unreliable sources. The probability is that the brilliant writers of fiction who have been sent over to the Orient, not because they are skilled newsgatherers, but on the strength of a reputation acquired by turning out "best sellers," are bottled up costs, will be signed upon presentasomewhere on the road to Mandalay.
